Join the Deva revolution...

Welcome to the era of Deva...

Where sulfate free and botanically infused haircare unite. Whether your hair is relentlessly curly, wavy, straight or chemically processed, Deva's interchangeable product line has it's own unique blend of botanicals that allow for individuality, simplicity and the freedom to address your hair's specific needs.

What is in the Deva system?

The answer is what is NOT in the Deva system. We took the poo out of shampoo, the harsh and dehydrating detergent otherwise known as Sodium Lauryl Sulfate. We removed all unnecessary chemicals that often play on hair's vulnerability and replaced them with the finest quality of cleansing and moisturizing botanicals that rejuvenate, restore and respect your hair's natural order. The beautifully healthy hair you deserve will be yours with Devacurl, DevaCare and DevaColor.

With Deva, hair is not a trend...its a lifestyle!

Enjoy.

General Tips for Curly Hair

- Read Curly Girl (Workman Publishing 2001) and learn how to care for your curls.
- Leaning forward, gently distribute AnGéll to wet hair in an upward scrunching motion. Slowly raise your head to an upright position and allow your curls to fall naturally.
- Let your hair dry naturally or use the DevaFuser.
- Resist the temptation to scrunch the hair while it is drying.
- Once dry, loosen curls from underneath, never from the surface where curls are most vulnerable.

General Tips for Color Treated Hair

- To balance color and hydration, alternate between DevaCare and DevaColor for optimum results.
- Use DevaBlonde on naturally silver hair to reduce yellow tones.
- For added color deposit, apply DevaColor's No-Poo™ Blonde, Red or Brown to slightly damp hair. Comb through with your hands to evenly deposit color. Wait 15 minutes. Rinse and follow up with your daily recommended cleansing and conditioning routine.

Cleansing

- How often should I No-Poo?

When changing over to Deva for the first time, use the same routine as you would with a conventional shampoo. Once the hydration level in your hair improves, continue cleansing with No-Poo as often as necessary. We recommend once or twice a week. However, we do suggest wetting your hair and conditioning everyday until the desired hydration level is achieved.

- What is the difference between No-Poo and Low-Poo?

No-Poo is our zero lather conditioning cleanser specifically designed for dehydrated hair AND scalp. Low-Poo does not have any added conditioning botanicals and delivers a mild lather derived from coconut. Low-Poo is recommended for normal to oily scalp.

Be aware that residue from other products might be making your hair feel like it is oily when it really isn't.

- Why does my hair still feel dirty after I cleanse with these products?

Do not confuse your hair's natural moisture with feeling dirty or greasy. We are accustomed to how our hair feels when using detergent based shampoos from an early age and have believed that a "good" shampoo is one that lathers to a squeaky clean feel. Therefore the feeling of dry scalp and hair is all that we know. While conventional shampoos rely on synthetic detergents that deprive the hair of moisture, the Deva product line offers an alternative method of cleansing and conditioning using botanically derived ingredients that leave your hair and scalp hydrated... the way it should always feel.

- What is the difference between DevaCare and DevaCurl?

While both lines are sulfate-free and botanically infused, DevaCare has additional Vitamin C and orange peel wax that will slow color fading and oxidization. We recommend DevaCare for dehydrated, blow-fried, color treated and chemically processed hair.

- What is the difference between DevaColor and DevaCurl?

While both lines are sulfate free and botanically infused, DevaColor contains additional balancing pigments for natural, color treated and chemically processed hair.

- Will the DevaColor line alter my existing color?

DevaColor will not change your existing color if you balance your routine by alternating DevaColor with DevaCurl or DevaCare every other time you cleanse and condition. Should you decide to use DevaColor repeatedly, your existing color tone will slightly shift since it contains depositing pigments.

- Can I detangle my hair with a comb in the shower?

The fingers are the gentlest way to detangle the hair without causing breakage or disturbing the curl formation. Remember, your hands came before the comb was ever invented!

- Can I leave the One Condition in my hair?

Yes. However, should you decide to use B'Leave-In moisture supplement as well, we recommend rinsing out the One Condition completely as it may weigh down your curls when used in conjunction with B'Leave-In.

- What is the difference between One Condition and B'Leave-In?

One Condition is an ultra creamy, super rich conditioner drenched with botanicals that help to hydrate the hair from the inside-out. The hair absorbs what it needs and releases what it doesn't when rinsed. B'Leave-In is an additional moisture supplement specifically designed to be left in the hair. B'Leave-In is glycerin based with enriching proteins that deliver additional moisture, vitality and brilliance to the hair.

- Why is B'Leave-In clear?

Curly hair does not reflect light as easily as other hair types, so logic tells us that clear products will allow our locks to shine on!

Setting the hair

- What is the difference between towel drying or using a paper towel or cotton t-shirt?

Towels are too absorbent and cause friction. Paper towels or a t-shirt will provide a smoother and flatter surface to absorb just enough water to allow the styling products to set the curls and keep them intact.

- How do I use B'Leave-In?

After thoroughly rinsing out One Condition, evenly apply a generous amount of B'Leave-In Moisture Supplement to the hair. Then follow the instructions below:

For tight and dehydrated curls: Apply B'Leave-In with both hands in an upward scrunching motion to distribute the product evenly and to begin enabling the curl. If you desire a looser curl then apply B'Leave-In by gliding your fingers through the hair in a downward motion.*

For wavy hair: Apply B'Leave-In with both hands in an upward scrunching motion distribute the product evenly.*

For straight hair: Apply B'Leave-In by gliding your fingers through the hair in a downward motion before blow-drying.*

- What is AnGéll's function?

AnGéll is a clear, light weight, moisturizing and defining gel. It crystallizes the wet curl formation until it dries, protecting it from outside interferences such as wind, which can cause friction & frizz when agitated.

Using DevaCare's Arc AnGéll will give curls medium to firm hold.

- How do I set my curls?

Remove excess water from hair by scrunching it with paper towel.

Then, leaning forward and tilting head, evenly distribute the gel throughout the hair, scrunching in an upward motion. Next, evenly apply B'Leave-In to the hair, then spray or scrunch in the Set it Free to set the curl.

- Will the AnGéll leave my hair hard?

Initially, yes. The hair will dry to a hardened crystallized cast. As soon as you scrunch the dry and hardened curls, the cast will dissolve leaving your curls feeling soft, bouncy and enlivened. The more you scrunch the more volume and curl expansion you will create. If you scrunch just enough to dissolve the cast, your curls will have more definition and less volume.

Touching the hair before the AnGéll crystallizes will defeat the purpose of curl definition and create unwanted frizz!

Styling the hair

- What is Set it Free and when should I use it?

Set it Free is a 24-48 hour moisture lock infused with beeswax and olive oil. It provides additional frizz control, moisture, body and curl definition. Set it Free can be sprayed on wet and/or dry hair.

For straight hair: We recommend spraying Set It Free on a wet scalp and ends before blow-drying for extra volume.*

For fine hair: We do not recommend repeated usage throughout the day as too much beeswax may cause this hair type to feel heavy.*

- What is Mist-er Right and how do I use it?

This lavender based tonic and hair freshener helps revitalize and enliven even the most delicate and tired hair. Tilt head from side to side, then spray and scrunch gently in an upward spring motion toward the scalp. Use daily if needed. Mist-er Right will not leave your curls hard or crunchy.
